

Atos Healthcare wins Nursing Times ‘Most Improved Independent Employer 2008’

London, 7 April 2008

Atos Healthcare, today announced it was named ‘Most Improved Independent Employer 2008’ as drawn from The Nursing Times Top 100 list of the best UK healthcare organisations. This is the third year running that Atos Healthcare has been recognised as a top 100 employer by The Nursing Times.

The awards are based on surveys sent by the Nursing Times to Atos Healthcare employees and reveal a forward-thinking company that looks after and develops its staff. Atos Healthcare was praised for its training, flexible working hours and for the autonomy nurses enjoy.

“At Atos Healthcare we are committed to creating a positive and inspirational workplace for all our staff and are delighted that this has been recognised by The Nursing Times Top 100 awards,” said Mark Bounds, head of Atos Healthcare. “As a leading provider of healthcare services in the UK, our nurses, part of our team of 2500 healthcare professionals, play an important role to ensure that we continue to deliver and enable clinical excellence that improves the wellbeing of the individual.”

Over 200 companies entered the awards this year, which are organized by The Nursing Times Top 100, in association with NHS Employers. The awards, now in their third year, are open to both NHS and independent employers, charitable organisations, care homes and the armed forces – in fact anywhere nurses work.
