

Atos Healthcare secures top spot in UK Occupational Health market

London, 14 August 2008

Atos Healthcare, a business division of Atos Origin, today announced that it is now the number one occupational health provider in the UK<sup>1</sup>, according to the latest UK Occupational Health Market Development Report, Market and Business Development 2008, published by MBD.

Atos Healthcare has been delivering innovative and effective OH, Employee Assistance Programmes and Wellbeing services for more than 10 years to companies in both the private and public sectors. With a team of more than 2,500 – of whom over 1,900 are qualified medical professionals – Atos Healthcare looks after the occupational health of over 680,000 employees from more than 150 centres across the UK.

This year, Atos Healthcare has renewed and signed significant OH contracts:

- In January, the Royal Mail Group extended its contract with Atos Healthcare, who will continue to deliver OH and welfare services to its 185,000 UK employees
- Atos Healthcare was awarded a contract with the DWP in June to provide OH services to its 110,000 employees from 46 centres across the UK as part of a strategy to promote a culture of good health and well-being
- The MoD awarded a contract to Atos Healthcare, starting on 1st September, for the delivery of OH advice and support to its civilian staff

Mark Bounds, senior vice president at Atos Healthcare, commented: "We are absolutely thrilled at the news that we have become the leading provider of OH services in the UK and will continue to work with companies to make a valuable impact on both staff and business well-being. OH services are proven to improve the health and wellbeing of employees, which is why we provide a full occupational health service to all UK Atos Origin employees. It helps us to reduce sickness absence, improve loyalty, increase productivity and ultimately lower costs."
